Central Says West Shore Behind for Last 25 Years

Naack, Feb. 25 (AP)—The New York Central railroad contends that "the potential for a break-even service on the West Shore has not existed for 25 years."

"In fact," Thomas J. Deegan Jr., Central vice president, told a meeting of commuters last night, "the Central shareholders have been subsidizing each rail-ferry commuter to the extent of more than $326 a year."

The Central has filed petitions in Albany, and Trenton, N. J., for permission to discontinue passenger service on the West

Payments Not To Be Figured

Death benefits to families of deceased veterans also are exempt from federal taxation, said an announcement from the Veterans Administration and Internal Revenue Service.

Youth Is Rescued From Airshaft

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—Screaming in pain, a 20-year-old youth was rescued today from a narrow airshaft down which he had plunged 12 stories 12 hours earlier.

"Get me out of here," he cried pitifully as police emergency squads batted frantically at walls of the shaft, between the first and second floors.

"I think my arms and legs are broken, they're all numb," wailed the youth just as the emergency workers finally broke through to free him some three hours after they began their efforts.

THE YOUTH, who identified himself as James Anderson, wedged behind pipes in the tiny airshaft—18 inches by 5 feet—following his plunge about 9 o'clock last night.

He said a companion bent on burglarizing the office and storage building at 121-123 East 24th street had forced him at gunpoint to jump through a skylight atop the building, which had reached by way of fire escape.

But instead of landing on a floor underneath the skylight, he said, he hurtled downward in space. Near the bottom he stuck between some pipes and the airshaft wall.

FOR HOURS no one heard his cries for help.

Finally at dawn today a building worker, Michael Reedy, un-

Parley Brings Hope

Bangkok Talk On Treaty Closes

Bangkok, Feb. 25 (AP)—The eight-nation Manila Pact conference ended today on a note of optimism that progress has been made in strengthening the area against aggression.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told the closing session of the three-day meeting:

"The way of the aggressor has been made harder."

Gathered to implement the treaty signed in Manila last September, the delegates established a permanent secretariat in Bangkok and set up committees on military, antisubversion and economic matters to put teeth into the pact.

THE EIGHT NATIONS are Pakistan, the Philippines, France, United States, Great Britain, New Zealand, Australia and Thailand.

Dulles told the delegates:

"We have taken decisions which will make the council (of representatives) an effective working party within the three areas dealt with by the pact, namely, defense against open, armed aggression; defense against subversion from without; and promotion of economic and social well being."

IN WHAT SEEMED a reference to the touchy Formosa problem, Dulles said "we have exchanged opinions about the overall position in Asia . . . there has been recognition of the gravity of the danger that confronts us and of the urgency in dealing with it."

"I am confident that sense of urgency will be carried into the work of our permanent representative and of our political, military and economic experts."

Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden discussed Formosa at length last night. Unofficial sources said Eden expressed the belief Red China would not invade Formosa. He is also understood to have urged that the coastal islands of Quemoy and the Matsu complex be abandoned by the Chinese Nationalists.

DULLES HONORED by the delegates on his 67th birthday today, told the final session, "the independence of the treaty countries and the liberty of the peoples of the treaty area are more assured now than they were before we came. To turn that probability into a certainty will be a continuing task."

Dulles offered to share 220 pounds of nuclear fuel with Manila pact members interested in building atomic research reactors.

"Our Department of State and Atomic Energy Commission are ready to discuss with interested countries the negotiation of agreements for cooperation under which some of this nuclear fuel would be made available," Dulles said.

"Peaceful uses of the atom becoming the servant of mankind rather than its destroyer."

Help for Thiefs

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—A 17-year-old girl was arrested early today on charges of stealing more than $23,000 worth of jewelry from five fashionable Manhattan apartments. The girl, Rose D'Angelo, was taken into custody with her mother, Mrs. Nancy D'Angelo, 38, who was charged with criminally receiving stolen goods. Authorities said they received some of the stolen gems in the hotel room of mother and daughter, and planned to examine a safe deposit box later in the day.

Leaves Hospital

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) left the Hospital for Special Surgery today for further convalescence in Florida. The hospital said his condition is good and "it is hoped that he will return to Washington at the end of March." The senator underwent a spinal operation at the hospital last October and went to Florida just before Christmas. He re-entered the hospital Feb. 10, and the next day physicians removed a metal plate that was slowing his recovery.

Talks Are Begun

London, Feb. 25 (AP)—Secret disarmament talks began among representatives of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada in an atmosphere of pessimism today. Hopes of an agreement were dampened by the Moscow radio's recent charge that the western powers have already made the work of the parley ineffectual. The five nations from a subcommittee of the United Nations Disarmament Commission. Previous talks ended in a stalemate in June, 1954.

The piglet was part of the final poster act. Mrs. Robert A. Fuller carried it in her arms while Mrs. Arnold Frank held up a poster saying "a hog will be able to ride on the West Shore. Why can't we?" This was a takeoff on a slogan used a few years ago by Robert R. Young, Central president, which said "a hog can cross the country

Hearing Is Set on Program To Fill Kingston Point Site

3 Escape Burning Dwelling

A family of three narrowly escaped being trapped in a fire which badly damaged their Kingston Terrace home early today.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwitt Day and their son, Dennis, 6, routed from their sleep, got out of the building only a short instant before its interior became a mass of raging flame.

DWITT DAY, first awake, told firemen that the house was filled with heavy, black smoke. He was unable to get out through the kitchen door, but made it through a window after lifting out his wife and son.

Mrs. Day, who hurried to the home of Michael Gallagher, of East Chester street extension to notify the fire department, reported that the house was still dark with dense smoke as she left, but she was scarcely on her way to the neighbor's house when, looking back, she saw a mass of flame inside.

Chief Joseph L. Murphy said origin of the fire is undetermined. It destroyed all furnishings in the house and badly damaged its interior. Of one-story, frame construction, it had been covered with asphalt shingle and partly by metal.

MICHAEL GALLAGHER telephoned the fire department at 2:31 a. m. Men and equipment from Wiltwyck station and Wicks Engine company responded because only a short time before the call, equipment from Central station had been called to 18 Pine Grove avenue, where a sprinkler bell was ringing. Firemen found no serious trouble there.

Chief Murphy said there had been some fire in the furnace room of the house, but it could not be definitely determined whether a furnace defect had been the cause of the blaze.

China Gives Up Island Completely

Communists Win Without Fight

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 25 (AP)—Nationalist China today abandoned tiny Nanchisan to the Chinese Reds, giving the Communists another bloodless victory in their civil war.

The Defense ministry said the evacuation was carried out without U. S. assistance and with no interference by the Reds.

The ministry refused to divulge the number of troops involved, but the garrison of regulars and guerrillas totaled perhaps 5,000.

A MINISTRY spokesman said the island's fortifications were blown up before the withdrawal and all supplies and equipment were brought to Formosa.

The entire civilian population, a little more than 2,000, chose to leave rather than come under Red rule, the spokesman told a news conference. All arrived safely in Formosa.

"Not a single person remained behind," he said.

Nationalist spokesman insisted right up to the end that Nanchisan would be defended. Newsman today accused the government of "deliberately misleading" them.

THE OPERATION began at 7 p. m. Wednesday and ended at noon today. Nationalist warplanes protected the convoy to Keelung harbor.

Nanchisan, 140 miles north of Formosa and 23 miles off the Red mainland, was the northern anchor of Chiang Kai-shek's chain of offshore island outposts.

Its loss followed by less than three weeks the similar evacuation with U. S. help of the Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—The government reported today that living costs were unchanged in January from December.

There were slight increases in the cost of food and some other items but these rises were balanced by drops in prices of clothing and house furnishings during January sales.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its January index remained at the December level of 114.3. This is a fraction of one per cent below January, 1954 and one per cent under the October, 1953 living cost peak.

THERE WAS insufficient change in the index to require any pay adjustment for about one million workers in the auto and aircraft industries whose pay rates are geared to the index by union contracts.

This would have been the last time quarterly living cost pay adjustments would have been

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—The government for the protection of the New York state legislature probers says that three national organizations tagged by the government as subversive practiced deception in collecting and spending more than $1½ million in recent years.

Those named are the Civil Rights Congress, American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born, and Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee.

Counsel Bernard Tompkins told a joint legislative committee, which continues its public hearings today, that:

THE AMERICAN Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born—collected more than one million dollars from the public since 1940. Used the names of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Secretary of State Cordell Hull, novelist Fannie Hurst, the late Wendell L. Willkie and other prominent Americans. Gave help only to members of the Communist party.

The Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee—raised more than $1½ million dollars since 1942 in the name of Loyalist refugees from Franco Spain. Spent less than 10 cents on the dollar for the purpose for which it was claimed to be raised.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS Congress—Collected more than one million dollars between 1946 and 1953. Diverted much of it to purposes other than the specific defense causes for which the money was donated.

All three organizations are on the U. S. attorney general's list of subversive groups.

Tompkins listed the funds at yesterday's hearing before the joint legislative committee on charitable and philanthropic agencies and organizations. The committee's current hearings are on charges of diversion to subversive causes of millions of dollars ostensibly raised for charity.

possible under major five-year auto industry contracts which begin to expire at the end of May.

Mrs. Arness Joy Wicksen, acting labor statistics commissioner, said the consumer price situation continues to reflect considerable stability.

She reported that, with wages rising somewhat, the average factory worker is faring better under the stabilized price situation to the tune of better than $2 a week in net spendable earnings.

MRS. WICKENS also reported that the quality of many clothing and house furnishing items is being improved under the stress of competition.

She said this is not reflected in living cost figures but does mean "the consumer is getting more value for his money."

Mrs. Wicksen said she expected no very great changes in prices in the near future since there were no marked changes in the wholesale markets.

She reported there has been a considerable decline in coffee prices in February, but egg prices have increased.

The bureau said food prices rose two-tenths of one cent per cent in January, by comparison with December, but the price level still was 2.2 per cent lower than in January.

HIGHER PRICES for fresh vegetables and poultry this January were almost counterbalanced in the family food budget by lower prices for eggs, pork, oranges and milk.

Small increases in prices of fuel, transportation, medical and personal care, and reading and recreation were balanced by the lower prices for clothing and home furnishings.

Average weekly take-home pay for factory workers reached a record level for January although it was slightly under the December level.

A decline from December to January is usual because of reduced working hours due to such factors as taking inventory.

Net spendable average weekly earnings in January were $68.41 for a worker with three dependents. Both figures are about 35 cents lower than December but about $2.35 higher than January.

It was reported Monday night at the meeting of the Auxiliary of Lloyd Post, American Legion that 13 members had given eight hours each assisting at well baby clinics in February and of the giving of a wheel chair to the use of the nurse committee in the Town of Lloyd. New Probe Outlined

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) today outlined a new probe of teen-age crime and violence. Kefauver is chairman of the juvenile delinquency subcommittee which has asked the Senate for a $154,000 budget this year. In an interview following an organizational meeting yesterday of a new "national conference on juvenile delinquency," Kefauver said he was involved in the collision, was said to be Kefauver employee.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John is investigating to determine if there is basis to charge that there had been road "justling" or threats before the mishap.

Local police were notified, today, meanwhile that roofing nails had been found scattered in the driveway of the Delaware avenue mushroom cave.

Idaho's oldest institution of higher learning is the College of Idaho, at Caldwell, established in 1891.

Official reports said Nationalist warplanes last night sank four Communist vessels between Nanchishan and the Tachens. Other planes bombed Red-held Peilungshan, 12½ miles north of Nanchishan.

THE MATSUS are opposite a Red port, Foochow, just as Quemoy is off Amoy, another Red port.

The Nationalists decided to abandon three-square mile Nanchishan because of U. S. refusal to aid in its defense.

The Communists were expected to move onto the island quickly just as they did the Tachens.

In the view of Washington officials, Nanchishan had strategic value to the Nationalists as a radar post from which to watch Red air and sea movements along the coast. It has considerable psychological value to the Reds as a place to be exploited as evidence of Communist invincibility in the Far East.

Even while pulling out of Nanchishan, the Nationalists maintained the tempo of their air strikes in the area.

IN ACCORDANCE with a plan to alternate program meetings, April's session will include speakers on alcoholism and drug addiction. Both matters are considered important to nurses in their field of duty and of vital concern to the public.

The district nurses' association aside from being a unit of the New York State Nurses' Association is affiliated with the American Nurses' Association.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 24—Merchandising at the retail level has already passed through three revolutions since 1875.

Preceding those days there were no mail order houses or department stores, few chain stores (A & P had 50 stores which carried only tea, coffee, and crockery), but many wholesale houses and independent merchants. They were doing 95 per cent of the retail business. My father was one of these in Gloucester, Mass.

THE FIRST REVOLUTION in retailing was brought on by the department stores and mail order houses. This made it unnecessary to visit several different stores, if you lived in a city, while, if you lived in the country, you could shop by mail from your farm. This revolution was desperately fought by the old-time retailers. The second revolution came with the chain stores, which cut out the wholesalers. The department stores continued to buy through wholesalers; but the chains bought direct from the manufacturers.

Hence, they were fought by legislation and taxation enacted at the demand of the middlemen.

THE THIRD REVOLUTION is now on, being caused by the "discount houses." This is an effort to reduce retail prices by cutting out the bureaucracy, high rents, and unnecessary overhead developed by the department stores. But, a fourth revolution, as a revolt against parking meters, automobile congestion, and a lack of sufficient free parking, is just ahead of us.

This is being temporarily met by building new "Shopping Centers." It is reported that Allied Stores is to spend over $200,000,000 for this purpose. Shopping Centers, however, will be only a halfway cure. Wanamakers, which was the world's largest department store when I was a boy, has thrown in the sponge in its fight against automobiles and discount houses.

SHOPPING CENTERS offer free parking and "self-service," but the high rents may result in higher prices. Anyway, customers who use shopping centers are more dependent on automobiles than if they patronized the old downtown merchants. In fact, if city officials would treat their bus systems fairly, the present downtown stores could continue to give better service and perhaps undersell the new shopping center prices. I don't know. Different cities differ.

The next, or Fourth Revolution in retailing will be forced upon us by the automobiles. Simple arithmetic proves that the present race to make "the mostest and the largest" automobiles, with insufficient increase in highways cannot continue much longer. It is true that we are building splendid new toll roads; but very little is being done to avoid congestion in cities and to help local merchants. Otherwise, people may some day cease using automobiles for shopping. These machines may remain in the garage except for trips — as mother's sewing machine is now seldom used.

I FORECAST that this fourth revolution will result in customers buying from their homes soon by telephone, and later by television. Increased newspaper advertising with many more newspaper pictures of products for sale, supplemented by better telephone service, will become the custom. People are now sick of hunting for places to park their cars when shopping. People will think of the risk and gasoline costs of driving to shopping centers. The time may come when 80 per cent of the shoppers will sit at home in a comfortable chair, study the newspaper advertisements, and do their ordering by telephone.

NEWS PAPER ADVERTISING and telephones are the only cure for the present increased automobile congestion. In fact, I believe the stocks of certain newspapers — which are now temporarily in the dumps — plus stocks of telephone companies, preferably the wide-awake Independents, are among today's best "buys." (Local bankers please take notice!) Furthermore, I am investing my hard-earned money in "United States" stocks (listed on the New York and American Stock Exchanges). A company has recently organized a new corporation to profit from this coming fourth revolution.

BROTHERHOOD

This week the importance of mutual understanding and cooperation among people of different races and religions has been emphasized. The observance of Brotherhood Week makes us more conscious of what Brotherhood means.

Prejudices, discrimination, intolerance and persecution exist when there is a lack of understanding. Brotherhood Week reminds us of the need for understanding.

If we are to reduce the great strides that have been made against bigotry and persecution of minority groups, Brotherhood will have to be observed every week in the year.

BRIDGE APPROACH

The Assembly passed this week Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson's bill for a connecting highway from Route 32 to the 9-W highway. The purpose of the measure is to extend the westerly approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge to 9-W near the Neighborhood Road.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks' bill for the connecting highway is expected to come up in the Senate next week.

These bills should become law now and work started as soon as possible so that when the bridge is open to traffic this highway will be completed. Otherwise use of the bridge will be restricted.

EASTER SEAL APPEAL

The Easter Seal Appeal in New York State opens March 10 and runs through Easter Sunday, April 10. This year's goal is $600,000. The New York State Association for Crippled Children are sponsors of the annual campaign.

The New York State Association now is providing support partially or fully for 25 projects, centers and services in various parts of the state-rehabilitation centers, sheltered workshops, speech and hearing clinics, treatment centers, summer camps and similar projects serving a wide range of handicapped persons.

This cause should be supported by all citizens of the state.

Coffee prices are coming down to the point where it no longer is cheaper to drink champagne with your doughnuts.

THE NEW STATEHOOD BILL

A compromise bill to grant statehood both to Hawaii and Alaska has been approved by the House Insular Affairs Committee. It still has a long rocky road to travel before it can be passed and approved by the President.

The compromise bill calls for about 40 per cent of northern Alaska to be set aside as a military reservation. This might pacify Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson who has said that granting Alaska statehood at this time might interfere with the role the territory must play in our defense planning. Whether it will satisfy other administration figures who have opposed statehood for Alaska is another question.

It is generally believed that if admitted Hawaii would send Republican Senators to Washington and Alaska would be in the Democratic column. It scarcely seems likely that either party will ever be willing to grant the other an advantage by admitting one of the territories and not the other.

It also seems to matter little which party controls the White House as far as this problem is concerned. Both party platforms have endorsed the idea of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii. Yet when the time comes for action both have failed to demonstrate any desire to fulfill the promise.

WAYNE MORSE

Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon is being criticized, lampooned and cartooned for having turned himself into a Democrat after having been elected as a Republican. It would seem to me that Senator Morse did the right thing, provided that he can distinguish between what is Republicanism and what is Democracy. Such a distinction is not easy to make these days, but the Senator, having once been a professor, can probably find intellectual satisfaction in the task. At any rate, he has done it.

Winston Churchill crossed the aisle, as they say in the British Parliament. He started as a Conservative, went over to the Liberals, and now is not only a Conservative again, but the leader of all Tories. What Churchill could do with great acclaim, surely Wayne Morse can do if his conscience permits.

It is not too easy to analyze with any degree of precision what Wayne Morse has discovered about the Democrats now that he did not know when he built his political career as a Republican. This man entered political life as a professor of law, having prepared himself for such expertise at Columbia University. As a matter of fact, Morse originated in Wisconsin and is a graduate of its famous university which has been the center of what goes by the coloration of liberalism since the days of such mighty intellects as Thorstein Veblen, John R. Commons, Richard T. Ely and others of their persuasion who did so much to alter American thinking on so many subjects.

He then studied law at the University of Minnesota, completing that phase of his education at Columbia University in 1932. His first job was "Instructor in argumentation," believe it or not, at Wisconsin and then at Minnesota, after which he taught at Columbia and the University of Oregon, which is how he happened to be in the State whence he became a Senator. In fact, he was chosen Dean of the Law School at Oregon. Having established a reputation for argumentation, he became an arbitrator in labor cases and landed in the Roosevelt Administration as an official, that Administration being Democratic beyond cavil.

However, when the day came for aspirations to the United States Senate, Wayne Morse declared himself to be a Republican and ran as such and was elected as such. The only explanation for this affiliation in 1944 can have been that in those days, despite one's private opinions and beliefs, Oregon was not ready to elect a Democrat. In the Senate, Wayne Morse usually voted as a Democrat, of the original New Deal persuasion, his relations with the Republican Party being limited to what is known as "the organization of the Senate."

At heart, Wayne Morse has been a consistent New Dealer of what may best be described as a Fabian Socialist type. His consistency cannot be questioned because it is all in the record. Therefore, his current change is not a change at all but a rectification of the record. He is now exactly what he always has been but without protective coloration.

Nevertheless, I find it puzzling that he went to all the trouble of a re-registration. On national issues, it would take the mind of a medieval philosopher to split hairs over what is a Republican and what is a Democrat. Clear definition is, at this moment in our history, impossible.

President Eisenhower once defined Republicanism as "Moderate Conservatism," a slogan which did not take well because it could not be analyzed. Besides, it was too reminiscent of Henry Wallace. So that slogan was changed to "Dynamic Conservatism," which one editorial writer hailed as a philosophy—as though a philosophy of life can be capsule into two words. Surely Senator Walter George or Senator Harry Byrd, redoubtable Democrats, might be called a "Dynamic Conservative" without offense and with a marked degree of accuracy.

We might as well face the facts of life. The two major American parties have ceased to be different. Each has its liberal wing which tends toward socialism; each has its conservative wing which tends toward moderation. There is only a splintered group in Congress which would have been called conservative before Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected to the Presidency. The center of affiliation is pro- or anti-Eisenhower. It has come to that, and Wayne Morse is clearly and openly and beyond doubt anti-Eisenhower.

That Body of Yours

ALLERGY

There are certain drugs and foods which disagree with some persons who must learn to avoid them as they give rise to symptoms such as head colds, running nose and eyes, and also symptoms in the stomach and intestine.

I have written before of the case of an internationally known sprinter who was admitted to a hospital as a case of suspected scarlet fever. (There had been several cases of scarlet fever admitted to the hospital about that time.) It turned out that just a few hours before being admitted, he had taken a headache powder, one of whose ingredients had disagreed with him and caused symptoms very similar to those of scarlet fever. In a couple of hours the symptoms died away and he was discharged with a changed diagnosis.

In the Journal of Allergy, Drs. A. H. Rowe, A. Rowe, Jr., and K. Uyeyama describe the allergic symptoms which may appear in the stomach and intestine as characterized by pressure, tightness and burning in the upper part of the stomach accompanied by belching, heartburn, sour stomach, and mid and lower abdominal distress. There may be reddening of the skin, burning sensation in the mouth, headache with nausea and vomiting, fatigue, mental confusion, diarrhea or constipation.

Many of these patients had believed that their trouble was due to nervousness but attempting to relieve this nervousness was useless until they were placed on diets which avoided offending foods.

Laboratory tests and X-rays of the upper gastrointestinal tract were normal in the large majority of these cases. Removal of gall stones in one case did not relieve the distress until the patient was placed on a diet which eliminated these foods to which he was sensitive or allergic.

A sample elimination diet would allow: Rice (natural); lamb; lettuce, spinach, carrots; lemons, pears, peaches; sugar, olive oil, salt, unstuffled olives, maple syrup, gelatin. Whenever there is reason to believe a patient might be suffering from a food allergy, he is placed on such a diet and kept at it for a period of five to seven days. If no relief is obtained, he is placed on another test diet such as rice, tapioca; beef; tomatoes, celery, string beans; grapefruit, pears, peaches, sugar, a vegetable oil, salt, gelatin, maple syrup. If he then becomes free of symptoms, other foodstuffs are gradually added, one each day. If the symptoms reappear during this period, it stands to reason that the food last added to the diet, is the offender and must be avoided.

One War to Which We Can All Subscribe!Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — As is proper for a lady, Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, has done a job of keeping her foot out of her mouth than any other member of the Eisenhower cabinet.

Mrs. Hobby has achieved this distinction by violating Rule Number One almost constantly, but by never, oh never, violating Rule Number Two.

Rule Number One—as every government bureaucrat should know is, "Never take yourself too damn seriously." Mrs. Hobby always takes herself very seriously.

Rule Number Two is "Never say anything unless you know absolutely for sure what you're talking about."

As the exact opposite of the anonymous, giddy creature who first said, "How do I know what I think till I've said it?" Mrs. Hobby has made it a rule to say nothing till she knows what she says, or until somebody has told her—the facts.

BY STEADFASTLY keeping her mouth shut on most public occasions, there has of course been less chance of getting her foot caught in it.

Though a newspaperwoman herself, Mrs. Hobby has granted no exclusive interviews at all. The waiting list for such interviews is long. It took months to get her to talk to the National Press Club. She has held only six press conferences in two years.

These explanations are done with charts. More charts than have been seen since the days when Chester Bowles was Price Administrator. The Bowles charts were usually black and white. Mrs. Hobby goes in strictly for technicolor productions that look like Dali dreams.

Then come the questions. Mrs. Hobby allows a reporter only one question, at a time. If she knows the answer herself, she'll give it. But if she doesn't know it, you never catch the little lady from Texas off base. She calls on one of the experts to answer it. She just stands by, dominates the act and steals the scene.

BY THIS TECHNIQUE, and by never staying behind or outside of what's in the President's messages or proposals, smart Mrs. Hobby has kept herself above criticism and controversy.

With the Presidents' health and education programs now before Congress, this is going to be Mrs. Hobby's big year. Last year, of course, the social security system was made over.

There are those who say that former Undersecretary Nelson A. Rockefeller masterminded all this. But he's a modest, quiet, behind-the-scenes spade worker. To Boss Lady Hobby will go the credit. She's doing a job.

Today in WashingtonMeaning of Stable Dollar Clearly Explained by Eisenhower in Press Conference

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 24 — How many people know what is meant by the expression "a stable dollar"? Yet whether America is to have a sound dollar depends upon the number who understand the meaning of that term.

Hence, when the President of the United States explains it in the simplest language, his words are worth printing in exactly the form in which he uttered them. Paraphrases of condensed dispatches do not always convey the full meaning. And basic education on the importance of the dollar as a unit of purchasing power has been neglected. Only when the dollar begins to buy less and less does the public awaken to the dangers and begin to ask questions as to why the catastrophe has happened.

MR. EISENHOWER explained his concept of the dollar when he was asked at his press conference what he thought of the proposal of the majority of the Democrats in the House of Representatives to give everybody a $20 tax cut. The President did not say that tax cuts couldn't be granted while the budget was unbalanced. Indeed the correction of inequitable tax rates last year led actually to an expansion of business and an increase in the total tax receipts. He did say, however, that a tax cut which ignored sound principles of taxation and resulted in inflation was dangerous to the economy.

"Any proposal to reduce taxes," explained the President, "is, of course, popular, and at first glance this is a kind of proposal that should make an appeal to low income brackets. Let's take a little closer look at this proposal and start off with this observation:

"WHENEVER YOU have inflation, the immediate effect is to hurt the people of fixed incomes—white-collar workers and others who for the moment, at least, are on relatively fixed incomes. But, in the long run, the person who lays aside savings in the form of pensions, insurance plans, and savings bonds for use in his older age.

FOR EXAMPLE, anybody who paid up all of his share of a pension by as early as 1939 was getting in 1953 half of the worth of the dollars, of the worth of the pension plan he had bought.

"Now, when we talk of decreasing revenues at the government, in spite of every saving we have been able to make, is still spending somewhat more than it takes in, we are reaching some kind of heights in fiscal irresponsibility, and because this does have on the surface a popular or appealing appearance, these people apparently hope it may be passed.

"NOW, WE inherited in 1953 a budget that contemplated a 9.9

the White House and offered inducements. He told Roosevelt where to go. He also told Knox he was a renegade and a traitor to his political obligation and they never spoke again.

Henry L. Stimson, grown pretty old and a fellow who never did have a high resistance to "honors," was drawn in as secretary of war by Felix Frankfurter. This fact was set forth flatly by Harold Ickes in one of his pot-boilers for a magazine and never denied by Weenie, who has been the most diligent and pernicious tunnel-worker in the whole furtive machine. Hiss begged to be excused but, under pressure, finally confessed that Frankfurter was the one who planted him in the bureaucracy.

Ike started out with Martin Durkin and Mrs. Hobby, avowed Democrats, in his original cabinet and with Coleman Andrews, a Democrat, as his commissar of the income tax. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

The purpose of the insidious political solvent known as Americans for Democratic Action is to infect both parties with socialistic purposes. As a ruse, the apparatus usually describes its stuff as "progressive" and its agents as "liberal." It may well maintain its right to be called "progressive" on the same ground that a streetwalker may rightfully insist that she is progressing to hell.

Out of weakness and weariness, we true liberals of the United States have abandoned our exclusive right to that appellation which means a person who keeps his hands off others, respecting their rights, and the principles of persons so disposed.

Alcoholics Are Often Last To Recognize Their Plight

quarer's anonymity will be respected.

WHEN THE compulsive drinker seeks help, the members of AA will ask no embarrassing questions; take no case history; make no charge; and exact no promises to stop drinking.

Rather they will recite their own case histories, tell what AA is and not, give some preliminary hints on how AA works and try to get the person with the drinking problem, if he or she is well enough, to attend a group meeting that night.

AA works principally through local groups. There are 14 groups along the Hudson valley that hold meetings open to the public and the interested person can go to a meeting in the valley every night in the week. There are more than 6,000 groups in the United States and other countries.

EACH GROUP is autonomous. There is no vertical organization with successive layers of supervisory responsibility. The Alcoholic Foundation in New York city is an international service and information organization.

It publishes the book Alcohols Anonymous, guarantees the integrity of AA's digest-sized magazine, The Grapevine, and publishes pamphlets that are useful to AA members. The Foundation exercises no supervision over the local groups.

There are many symptoms, though each alcoholic may not experience all of them. The effort to control or limit the number of drinks; switching from whisky to wine; to beer, going 'on the wagon'; hiding bottles at home; hangovers; morning shakes; blackouts (loss of memory for brief periods or several hours); lying about, or minimizing, the number of drinks (pouring a double and calling it one); sneaking drinks; absenteisms; trouble at home because of liquor; loss of self-respect and a feeling of remorse; loss of some but not necessarily all friends, etc.

ANY ONE of the symptoms does not necessarily mark the man or woman as alcoholic but when they occur in combination the diagnosis is much simpler. Treatment by physicians, trips to hospitals and sanatoriums, and loss of jobs come later, but some alcoholics who have lost job after job, family, home and friends still fail to see that alcohol is the cause of their trouble. They are prone to blame their wives, employers, everyone and everything except themselves and their drinking.

The alcoholic is a compulsive drinker. He cannot drink moderately except perhaps for brief periods of time. For years he thought he could stop any time he so decided; that he could "handle this myself," forgetting that the non-alcoholic does not have anything to "handle." If he is fortunate, he will one day conclude that he cannot stop alone.

It is generally agreed that the alcoholic's greatest hope today is Alcoholics Anonymous.

HUNDREDS of alcoholics in Ulster county have found sobriety in AA and there are more than 150,000 members in the whole AA movement. Physicians, clergymen, and judges are now referring their problem drinkers to AA, often pleading with them to try this successful method of treatment.

"Alcoholics Anonymous," says an AA pamphlet, "is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others to recover from alcoholism."

The only requirement for membership is an honest desire to stop drinking. AA has no dues or fees. It is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization or institution; does not wish to engage in any controversy, neither endorses nor opposes any causes. Our primary purpose is to stay sober and help other alcoholics to achieve sobriety."

THE HONEST desire to stop drinking in many cases is not achieved until the new member has been around AA for a while. He sometimes comes to AA seeking help but complete abstinence is not one of his objectives.

When a victim of compulsive drinking decides he had better look into this AA business he will be made most welcome if he will contact his local group. Further information will be made available if he or she will write to Post Office Box 249, Woodstock, N. Y., or Post Office Box 612, Uptown Station, Kingston. No fees are charged and the in-

Violations May Change Limits of Korea Armistice

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—The United States and the allies with which it fought the Korean war eventually may denounce armistice limits on the size of forces because of Communist violations.

The United States has accused the Chinese and North Korean Reds of introducing jet airplanes into North Korea contrary to provisions of the July 1953 cease-fire agreement. Similarly officials say the Reds have increased their total strength and otherwise violated provisions designed to keep Communist and United Nations forces in about the ratio which existed at the end of the fighting.

TO COUNTER this buildup, some officials feel it may be necessary to declare the limitations invalid and meaningless. Presumably that would mean putting into South Korea later types of weapons—particularly jet planes—than those which were there at the end of the war.

Representatives of the United States, of South Korea and of 15 other nations which assisted in fighting the Korean war met at the State Department late yesterday.

The United States advised the other governments that the UN military command was gravely concerned over the Communist buildup.

DEPUTY Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, speaking for this country, cited a finding that the jet planes which attacked the U. S. UN reconnaissance bomber over the Yellow Sea on Feb. 5 were North Korean. The American contention is that there were no Communist jets in North Korea at the end of the fighting 20 months ago and under the truce none should be there now. The truce forbids either side to bring in reinforcements or weapons of a type and effectiveness not present in Korea when the fighting stopped.

Another problem on which the United States has advocated early decision is a proposal from Switzerland and Sweden to abolish or curtail a neutral nations supervisory commission set up to keep watch on the armistice.

The Swiss and Swedes have said they can not operate effectively in North Korea to look into alleged violations although the Communist commission members, Poles and Czechs, have been able to operate freely in South Korea.

The variety of comments that accompanied the answers such as: "nice for band concerts," "the scenery here is already adequate," "we have one already," "the town is practically a park now," "spare money should go to something more important" show clearly that the question raised a variety of conceptions of a park area.

New Paltz

Tabulation Shows Interest in Pool

New Paltz, Feb. 25—Widespread interest in a community swimming pool in the village is indicated in the recent survey of the town of New Paltz.

In answer to the question, "Would you be interested in a community swimming pool in the village," more than seven out of 10 people approved the idea.

Of 742 persons answering the question about the pool, 535 said "yes," 207 said "no." Many of these had additional comments. Seven persons felt that a pool should be self-liquidating and four insisted upon thorough supervision. Sanitation was the concern of one interviewee, while another thought that a pool should be part of a park area. One person felt that the reservoir should be utilized for swimming.

Some of the questions included in the survey, such as that about a swimming pool, called for simple yes or no answers.

Others were not so easily tabulated and their assessment calls for study and consideration.

These are the "open" questions, calling for opinion only, where no suggestion was made by the interviewer.

"What do you think New Paltz needs" was a question of this nature. It was discovered that there were over 130 different specific suggestions, ranging from an art supply store to zoning. Yet, 155 people felt that New Paltz badly needs more recreational facilities in one form or another, of both indoor and outdoor nature, and 65 immediately answered "swimming pool" when asked this question.

Twenty more persons specifically mentioned the need for a park here. It is a clear-cut indication that sport and recreational facilities are widely and strongly desired.

"Does New Paltz need a park?" turned out to be the kind of question that was too vague to bring out any specific results of real value. Volunteers who did the interviewing agreed that there was confusion in their own minds as well as in those of the people they talked with as to what a park would include.

Many pictured a park as primarily providing scenic beauty or a spot for occasional leisure time sitting.

The variety of comments that accompanied the answers such as: "nice for band concerts," "the scenery here is already adequate," "we have one already," "the town is practically a park now," "spare money should go to something more important" show clearly that the question raised a variety of conceptions of a park area.

Therefore, tabulators felt that the results, 346 "in favor" of a park, and 372 "not in favor," with 55 not answering, did not constitute as reliable a picture of public opinion as if the question had been more specifically worded.

Further results of the survey will be released weekly. Interested readers are urged to keep the stories for a co-ordinated picture of the growth and make-up of the town and opinions of its needs and advantages.

Don't goggle too much at the opening bid of one no-trump by the South hand. Many players favor a "weak" opening bid of one no-trump, based on a count of 12 to 14 points. I don't favor it myself, but there are some arguments in its favor, particularly when you are not vulnerable. Of course, when you use a weak no-trump your partner and the opponents must be fully aware of it.

Alaskan Defenses—4

(Arctic flying, once the province of the daring explorer, has become routine to thousands of men in the U. S. Air Force. But it is still an unpredictable and often dangerous business. This last of a four-part series on Alaskan defenses tells some of the problems involved.)

BY ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Affairs Writer

Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, Feb. 25 (AP)—The air force's newest strategic bomber, the all-jet B52, may soon be brought to Alaska for tests under brutal weather conditions their pilots would expect to encounter in case of war.

There are some questions about arctic operations that cannot readily be answered back in the states, even in atmospheric test chambers or above 30,000 feet, where temperatures may go far below zero in summer.

These questions are posed by the weather. In the air, they may take form in tricky, almost unpredictable arctic storms. On the ground they are brought on by bitter, unrelenting cold.

There are reasons to believe that the all-jet B52 may possess distinct advantages over the present piston B36 heavy bomber.

A major problem of arctic operation, for example, is "cold soak"—the congealing of lubricants, chilling of carburetors and condensation of vapor in fuel and oil lines that result from prolonged exposure of parked aircraft to extreme temperatures.

Among other things, a jet engine needs no "warm up" period prior to taking off. The white-hot flame sets the turbine spinning almost instantly. The pilot needs only to take a quick reading of instruments.

ANOTHER HAZARD of Arctic air operations is "ice fog," created when low temperatures and the dew-point of moisture coincide. A single piston-engined plane making a takeoff run can create a blanket of ice fog which will hang over the runway for hours if there is no wind. This closes the runway to further takeoffs or landings.

But pilots believe that a jet engine has noticeably less tendency to create ice fog.

Along with ground operations of planes, the weather imposes trouble for airborne planes. Again, jets have an advantage because they operate best at high altitudes, above the layers of weather. But they must take off and land through the weather layer.

THE MISSION of the 7th weather group, with its headquarters here and a reconnaissance squadron operating from Elmendorf Air Force Base, in the vicinity of Fairbanks, is to forecast the tricky storms that come rolling out of Siberia and down from the Polar regions. The group takes its readings on conditions beyond the reach of land observation stations scattered throughout Alaska. "Ptarmigan" flights of RB 29s survey the weather northward to the Pole. "Loo" flights check the weather outward over the Aleutian chain.

The 7th weather group is an element of a world service operated for the air force and army. Information from this service also is fed into an international weather forecasting system, which includes Russian weather observations.

SO FAR AS CAN BE determined, weather reports from the Russians are reasonably factual and accurate.

Indeed, there are examples of the Soviets going out of their way to be cooperative.

Airmen chuckle over a recent incident. An aircraft flying over the western fringe of Alaska lost radio contact with its home base because of atmospheric conditions. The base was unable to contact the plane directly to inform the pilot that bad weather had closed the field.

Russians somewhere on the eastern tip of Siberia could read the radio messages from the Soviet neighbors in this part of the world appear to have a rigid set of rules controlling their relations.

Arctic weather, it was discovered in the recent "Exercise Snow Bird," can impose limitations on the movement of airborne army troops.

The first phase of the exercise, calling for a mass jump of a thousand or more paratroopers at Galena, 250 miles northwest of Elmendorf, had to be canceled after three postponements.

One of the primary reasons for the postponements was bad flying conditions between Elmendorf, where paratroopers of the 11th Airborne Division were based, and Galena, situated on the Yukon river.

Storms and clouds hung for days in a pass through a range of high mountains. The C119 transport planes could have been flown, individually, through the pass and storm, using blind flying instrument technique. But formations of planes could not. And army commanders hold that troops must be dropped en masse to be of satisfactory tactical value.

The alternate to that situation would be to fly formations at high altitude, above the clouds. But the supply of oxygen and masks for its use in each plane would not have been adequate for each load of paratroopers.

Grandmother Has Allison Roos Custody

Los Angeles, Feb. 25 (UPI)—A Tuckahoe, N. Y., grandmother has temporary custody of Allison Roos, 3½-year-old daughter of Alexandra Roos, slain near here last Jan. 7.

Mrs. Freida Schmidt's petition for the guardianship was granted yesterday.

Her attorney, Hiram T. Kellogg, testified that Miss Roos left a will directing that neither Mrs. Schmidt nor the latter's husband, Hugo Schmidt, should be given control over Allison.

But he said Mrs. Schmidt has concluded that no one else is qualified to rear the child.

Kellogg said that Alan H. Brown, 46, film technician, had indicated a desire to adopt the child, born during a period when Brown and his wife, Mrs. Viola Brown, 35, were estranged.

Miss Roos' body was found in the Santa Monica mountains, 22 miles north of Santa Monica, two weeks after her death.

Police later booked Frank J. Meloche, 34, electronics engineer, on suspicion of murder.

Maroons Play Final Road Game at Liberty

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

If that TV razor blade guarantees to shave you with the sharpest edges ever honed, then Thomas M. Davitt's rapier like wit must be the most piercing verbal thrust ever harpooned into human flesh.

T.D.'s pointed and acrid buffoonery in presenting awards to Joe Hoffman and Eddie Baker at the Old Timers baseball dinner, was sharp and incisive, a delight even to the most jaded of the greybeards.

Davitt directed the bulk of his remarks to his old sidekick, Hoffman, and the stolid catcher listened with interest and it seemed, rapture!

When Davitt had completed his flight into oratorical fantasy, Hoffman arose and made a nice little speech expressing his thanks for the honor being paid him by the OTBA. He mentioned in passing that Mr. Davitt's witticisms left him virtually prostrate but he felt it his duty to point out in rebuttal that his lifetime batting average was "somewhere near .300."

"Unfortunately," quipped Hoffman, "there is only a vague reference in the record books to Tommy's batting exploits. His batting average was of a nebulous, shadowy quality that never quite made the record books, principally because the statisticians don't keep figures below .190. However, there is on record a Homer that Tommy hit in a game between the latter day Colonials and the Pan Ams in June, 1929."

"And, as you might suspect," Hoffman concluded, "he hit it to the opposite field. . . ."

The Basehits Rolled:

Engulfed in nostalgia, the Old Timers, 50 strong for their largest attendance in five years, spent a night of reminiscences. Verbal baseballs splattered off the walls of Zip Zaccione's newly decorated restaurant, while Paul J. Freer, the eminent mixologist, dispensed of the cheer that makes for basehits far from the regulation baseball diamonds. . . . Normie Niles brought along a batch of clippings, all favorable. . . . "Just showed them to the kids tonight," he said. "Didn't want them to think the old man never got a hit." There was a letter of regret from Brig. Gen. Eddie Messinger at West Point, an old Kingston All Star hand. Dick Dulin wired from Waterbury and Mayor Ross "Punk" Vogt of Ridgefield, N. J., fabulous KHS athlete of the 1920s, called Cuneo's to say he was tied by official business. Three widely separated messages reflecting the solid interest in the OTBA.

Of Men and Mice:

There were flowers from Eddie Burgevin, who with Lefty Martin formed the dynamic Gold Dust twins, who nearly drove Manager John McCandie to a psychiatrist. . . . Bill Scully furnished the beer and took movies for posterity's sake. . . . Dick McCarthy, the sportscaster, sporting his Cafe Society tan, was as eloquent as usual. . . . Louis G. Bruhn, always good for a story, told a couple of honies. . . . Alfred Giuseppe, president of the Ossining PAL, took a bow. . . . Six of the previously honored greybeards took a bow—Jim Volker, the new vice-president, Dutch Glaser, Joseph "Kid" Moore, fresh from surgery; Hank Cragan, Mattie Deegan and Dewey Van Buren. . . . Two all-time RHS pitching greats—Bill Thomas and Paul Joyce. . . . McCandie's "dream outfit"—Pres Knight, Jimmy Merritt and Charlie Lay. . . . Joe Quinn, Jack Dawkins, Roy Van Buren, Joe Dulin, Vince Van Bramer, Jack Hartman, doubling as a statistician. . . . Gabby Benjamin of Saugerties. . . . Al Flanagan, Art Parks, George Messing, John Tomaseskie, Tommy Lewis, Jimmy DeCicco and a flock of others. The musicians Don Moore and the fiddler, Jules Teller. Then you saw Joe Messinger, Fred Davi, Rennie Van Keuren, Boots Leskie, Randy Winston, Danny Noble, the fireman, Eddie Murphy, Bill Murphy. . . . et al.

JESS COLLYER, the mayor of Ossining, a brilliant and witty speaker, scored a tremendous hit with the Old Timers. . . . He heads for Vero Beach, Fla., on March 4 to supervise Dodger umpires. "It's my annual vacation," he said, "and it's easier to argue with ballplayers than taxpayers." Collyer recalled the day he was having trouble with his buddy, Preacher Roe. . . . After a couple of borderline calls, Roe got stirred up and cocked his eye toward Manager Chuck Dressen in the Dodger dugout. "That was always the sign Preach was tired off," said Collyer. Came another close one and Roe thought he had a strike. "What was wrong with that one, Jess?" asked Preacher. "Too low . . . two low." Collyer shot back as Roe's temperature soared. "Say, Jess, who the h---- is batting, Tom Thumb?"

Harvey Scores 40th Assist

(By the Associated Press)

Doug Harvey of the Montreal Canadiens is a gent who figures the best defense is a good offense, and as a result he's set a record in the National Hockey League.

Harvey, a 5-11 defenseman who's in his eighth season with Montreal, established the standard with his 40th assist of the season as the Canadiens moved back into first place alone with a 1-1 tie against Toronto last night.

Harvey's assist, starting the play that boosted Jean Beliveau's NHL lead to 33 goals, broke the old record of assists by a defenseman set by Babe Pratt of Toronto in the 1943-44 season.

NIT 'Kidnaps' Uconns From NCAA Tourney

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Somebody bad stole the New England "champion" right out from under the noses of the NCAA basketball tournament committee and all the NIT can say in defense is "who, me?"

The NIT, once again engaged in its cold war with the NCAA, popped the question to Connecticut yesterday and got an acceptance to its 12 team tournament at Madison Square Garden March 12-19.

The NCAA made it an eye for an eye, however, by getting a "yes" from Memphis State just an hour before the Memphis darkhorse (17-3) received an NIT invitation.

WITH CONNECTICUT in the bag, the NIT needs but two more teams to round out its field. The other entries are Holy Cross, the defending champion, Duquesne, Dayton, Niagara, Manhattan, St.

Francis (Pa.), Cincinnati, Lafayette and Louisville. Lafayette came in with Connecticut, yesterday.

The other teams apparently are destined to be runnups from conferences that send their champs to the NCAA.

Now that Connecticut (20-3), an NCAA entry last season, and Holy Cross (17-6) are unavailable, the NCAA has a problem on its hands in picking the "New England champion" called for in its eastern regionals. The Uconns and Crusaders are the class of New England.

THE "CHAMP" will have to be either Williams (14-1), Amherst (13-4), Tufts (10-6) or Rhode Island (12-9).

Whoever the New England choice is, the team will play Canisius in a first-round tripleheader at Madison Square Garden March 8. The card also will feature La Salle, the defending champion, Duquesne, Dayton, Niagara, Manhattan, St.

choice yesterday, vs. the Southern Conference champ and Villanova vs. the Atlantic Coast Conference winner.

Both the southern and ACC play tournaments next week to determine their champions. If North Carolina State, on probation by the NCAA, wins the ACC title, however, the runup will make the Garden date.

The tripleheader winners advance to Philadelphia's Palestra March 11-12 along with the Ivy League champion, probably Penn, to determine the east coast king.

ANOTHER FIRST-ROUND elimination is set for Lexington, Ky., March 8 with the Mid-American conference champion jockeying with three at-large choices—Memphis State, Penn State and Marquette, the team with the longest winning streak after making Notre Dame its 21st consecutive victim last night 84-74.

Saddler Slim 7-5 Favorite Over Oft-Beaten Red Top

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—Feathertop champion Sandy Saddler finally takes his crown out of the deep freeze tonight against little old Teddy (Red Top) Davis in a title 15-roundner in Madison Square Garden.

Coach Kias hoped to have the Maroon at full strength for the Sullivan county invasion. Tom Flemming, who missed the last two games because of illness, is expected back at one of the forward posts.

Pushovers Oblige In the NBA

(By the Associated Press)

Three of the National Basketball Assn. leaders ran into some of their favorite pushovers last night and bolstered their positions as a result.

Fort Wayne's Pistons, the western division leaders, dumped Milwaukee 95-85 and Minneapolis smacked Boston 112-98 in a Minneapolis doubleheader. Syracuse, the eastern division leader, defeated Rochester 97-83.

The Pistons, who maintained their four-game lead over Minneapolis, trimmed the Hawks for the 11th time in 12 meetings with Mel Hutchins scoring 20 points. A 25-point third period wrapped it up for Fort Wayne.

MINNEAPOLIS HAD it just as easy against the Celtics, who hit only 25 field goals but canned 48 foul shots under the NBA rules that are supposed to eliminate foul line parades. Six Lakers hit in double figures, topped by Clyde Lovellette's 23 as Minneapolis took its fifth victory in seven games with Boston.

Syracuse ran its record to 7-1 against Rochester, although the Nats had a tougher time than usual. It took even quick points by Dolph Schayes and Paul Seymour to break it open at the start of the fourth period before Syracuse could stretch its lead over idle New York to 4 games.

BOWLING SCORES

It took quite a while, but the Ferraro Major League keglers have finally caught up with those newly resurfaced planks at the Bowldrome.

They broke loose for the first time last week with a rash of 600 triples. The tempo continued in high gear last night as Bill Lawrence fired a 666 series and Vern Van Deusen knocked off a 257 single.

And the surprise package of the season, Jarrin' Jimmy Amendola picked up where he left off in the Central Major Wednesday and unloaded a 654 blast. He cracked 714 the night before for a cool 228 average for the six games.

Eight other major leagues barged into the "600" circle and there was a stickout match in which Hayes-Jarrett powered 2914 to score a 2-1 upset over the league-leading Governor Clinton Market.

In the Sportsmen's Major League action, Ross Ellis rolled both individual highs with 236 and 591.

THREE "600" SHOOTERS—

Houston, Tex., Feb. 25 (AP) — Jimmy Demaret, who has broken par only six times in 25 rounds in the 8-year-old Houston Open, was the surprising leader today as the second round began in the winter tour's richest tournament.

Demaret took four strokes off par on the back nine yesterday to post a six-under 66 for the 7,200-yard Memorial Park course.

Ed Furgol, the National Open champion from St. Louis, was the only other player to match Demaret's 32 on the final nine and for the first time in the history of the $30,000 tournament the colorful Jimmy led the field.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 25 (AP) — Jimmy Demaret, who has broken par only six times in 25 rounds in the 8-year-old Houston Open, was the surprising leader today as the second round began in the winter tour's richest tournament.

Demaret took four strokes off par on the back nine yesterday to post a six-under 66 for the 7,200-yard Memorial Park course.

Ed Furgol, the National Open champion from St. Louis, was the only other player to match Demaret's 32 on the final nine and for the first time in the history of the $30,000 tournament the colorful Jimmy led the field.

THE 66 LEFT DEMARET one stroke ahead of Bill Trombley of Dallas. Tied at 68 were Furgol, Jack Burke, Jr., who works with Demaret at Klamath Lake, N. Y., and Wesley Ellis, young Riverside, N. J., pro making his first swing of the winter tour.

Nation Lifts Its Thoughts to God In Day of Prayer

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—Today may seem no different than the rest. The same sounds and movements in the streets, the same routines in offices, homes and workshops. But something special will be going on.

It may be unseen, soundless and hidden in men's thoughts. Or it may be whispered, or spoken aloud before crowds. But whatever the form, millions of people around the earth today are making a great concerted prayer.

... In this troubled world, may we not be frightened or dismayed, but have greater courage and power."

and greater faith in Thy love.

THIS IS the "World Day of Prayer" and Christians in nearly every country—130 of them—and in most towns and cities in the United States—more than 20,000 of them—are joining in.

At various hours of the day, in various settings—in churches, hospitals, colleges and factories—groups will gather to bow their heads, to kneel, to give voice to the wordless, universal language.

The praying began at daybreak in the Fiji and Tonga islands just beyond the international dateline:

In the United States, special proclamations were issued by many mayors and governors, calling attention to the observance. It is sponsored nationally by the 10-million-member United Church Women.

STARTED in 1887 by a small group of Brooklyn women, the movement has spread gradually until now interdenominational bodies in nearly every nation observe the occasion on the same date—the first Friday in Lent.

Just this year church groups in several additional areas—Israel, Czechoslovakia, Bali, Gibraltar, New Britain, Okinawa, Timor, Samoa, Papua and Tonga—will meet at the parish hall with Miss Marge Costello as leader and Miss Delores Baschnagel and Miss Marie Baschnagel as co-leaders. Wednesday, 2:30 to 3:30 p. m., release time period for religious instructions for all grammar school children under the direction of Redemptorist Fathers from Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus. Wednesday, 3:30 p. m., Brownies, Troop 61, will meet at the parish hall with Mrs. Joseph Fahysack as leader. Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

The Lenten sermon will be preached by the Rev. Joseph Camyns, CSsR, rector of Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and confessions.

Thursday, confessions from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Friday, first Friday of the month Mass at 7 o'clock. Holy Communion will be given at 6:30, just before and during Mass. Friday, 7:30 p. m., Sacred Heart devotions followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Saturday, confessions from 4:30 to 5:30 and 7 to 8:30 p. m. Holy Mass is celebrated every morning at 7 and Saturday at 8.

"May each one of us become more aware of the needs of people everywhere—the lonely, the hungry, the cold, the homeless, those who suffer from the iniquities of man.

"Help us to reach out to them in love . . .

"As we face man's desperate need in this troubled world, may we not be frightened or dismayed, but have greater courage and greater faith in thy love and power, as they are revealed to us through Jesus Christ.

"Give us a clearer understanding of thy way of life for all mankind . . . abide with us . . ."

Verdict Is Given

In Contract Case

A verdict for $250 was awarded plaintiffs, William Al- gier and another, doing business as the Empire Woodworking Company, in an action brought against Howard Baker in county court to recover a balance due on a contract to install kitchen cabinets in the home of defendant. The jury found no cause in a counter claim which defendant brought to recover damages on the theory the plaintiff company had not complied with the contract.

Francis Tucker appeared as trial counsel for Cook and Cook and Alfred Hafke of Harp and Hafke appeared for defendants. Settlement was announced in a contract action brought by Harold T. Taeger against Doris M. Galick which had been slated to follow the other trial. John Mazzaro appeared for plaintiff and Harp and Hafke for defendants.

Later yesterday, Mayor Robert F. Wagner said the board would close the hearing for the next two weeks pending a final decision.

At the hearing the board also considered appropriating $91,075,000 to start construction at Cannonsville, on the west branch of the Delaware river. The ap- propriation would include funds for doing additional work on the reservoirs at Rondout, Never- sink and Downsville. These three reservoirs are nearing completion.
